AAA hosting test-drives for seniors

KATHY HAIGHT

Older drivers can test-drive cars with new features to help with steering, visibility, comfort and accessibility at a free open house from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. April 25.

The event, held at AAA Carolinas' Charlotte headquarters, 6600 AAA Drive, will introduce "smart features" identified in cars based on recent research conducted by AAA and the University of Florida's National Older Driver Research and Training Center.

Hosted by AAA Carolinas and AARP, the open house aims to show seniors specific features in vehicles that make them more accessible, easier to driver and safer for older drivers.

Lists and brochures explaining "smart features" for mature drivers will be available, along with other information on driving for mature drivers.
